The parties have mutually agreed to amicably resolve the litigation filed by Police Chief Jim Kerr against the Petersburg Borough and Borough Manager Steve Giesbrecht for the sum of $70,000, paid by the Borough's risk pool insurer. Like most settlements, both parties made concessions to reach a mutually satisfactory compromise. The parties understand it is important for borough officials to work together in a positive and forward direction to provide efficient governmental services for Petersburg. The parties feel this resolution is in the best interest of the public and the appropriate decision to enable the parties to return to the business of government. The parties have agreed that they will not issue or make any further public statements on this matter, as they wish to move beyond these matters, which have been fully and finally resolved.
